The Changing Prospects for Cancer - ‘A Good Survival’

Introduction
Since the publication of the National Cancer Survivorship Initiative “Visioning” paper in 2010, the momentum behind improving services for patients living with and beyond cancer has increased exponentially.

The challenge for the next few years is to facilitate implementation of these innovations into mainstream cancer services. This conference will discuss and debate the challenges, issues and controversies related to an increasing population of cancer survivors.

Visit our website www.changingprospects.com for information and a series of guest blogs, videos and resources for professionals. This site is best viewed in modern browsers such as Chrome or Firefox.

Endorsement
Endorsed by the RCP for 6 CPD credits

Topics to be discussed
- Living with and beyond cancer in the 21st century
- Use of technology to encourage self-managed care
- Translating projects into mainstream practice
- Primary care perspectives – innovation in the community
- Cancer survivorship in the regions
- Emerging issues and developments

Testimonials from 2014
“Plenty of thought provoking discussion that can be utilised to change practice or help it on its way!”

“I particularly liked the discussion and debate approach - you didn’t shy away from the difficult and challenging aspects of living with & beyond cancer!”

“This was the first Changing Prospects conference - and hopefully will be followed by others. This was a packed conference bringing together those who have, work with or commission services for those affected by cancer: essentially the right people in the room able to debate and discuss how best to support future cancer care needs”

94% of delegates said that they would recommend attending!

The Changing Prospects for Cancer - ‘A Good Survival’

Abstracts
We are inviting abstracts for attendees who wish to present a poster based on the conference themes.
Guidelines are below and submissions should be directed to education.events@christie.nhs.uk

Possible topics
- New or innovative commissioning arrangements supporting the LWBC agenda
- Patient / user involvement or “co-creation” in LWBC projects
- Articulating what it means to have “a good survival” for patients being treated with curative intent.
- New approaches when dealing with the consequences of treatment or complex late effects
- New approaches to providing support for patients LWBC using mobile, web based or digital applications or technology

Abstract guidelines
Clinical and research abstract addressing the above mentioned themes will be considered.
Abstracts will be assessed for inclusion to the conference based on the following criteria:
- The abstract must be about a research project relating to one of the above themes
- The authors must ensure that abstracts are specific and coherent
- Abstracts should be structured as follows: background, aims, methods, results, discussion and conclusions.
- All abstracts must be written in English.
- The word limit is 250 words (excluding references)
- Up to three references may be cited and these must be provided using the Harvard referencing system.
- Please include the following:
  - Abstract title
  - Authors
  - Name
  - Job Title
  - Postal Address
  - Telephone and email address

How to submit
Completed abstracts should be submitted as a word document by email to: education.events@christie.nhs.uk
The deadline for receipt of completed abstracts is 10th December 2015
Abstracts will be judged by the Conference Scientific Committee and applicants will be informed by 1st Feb 2015

Poster guidelines
We would like to feature each and every poster we have accepted using the learning resources section of this website. The idea is that teams can take home the learning to inform their own service improvement projects.
Your poster must be prepared in two different formats:
- As an A1 sized poster
- As an A4 sized reproduction
Posters can be brought with you on the day, and on arrival a member of the team will show you to the display area. Boards will be provided. We encourage you to go for something eye-catching and colourful.
We encourage you to include your contact details for those people who may like to find out more.
