Saving you time with quick referencing

The evidence at your finger tips

We provide:

- online resources, including thousands of relevant books and journals, via the Internet with your Christie NHS OpenAthens (see Quick Links)
- traditional resources: specialist oncology and pain book collection; management & IT books; fiction & wellbeing books
- helpful experienced staff to guide you through the information jungle and show you the full range of our resources

Save time and be more effective

We support :

- your research, by providing a top quality literature searching service
- service development, by saving you time - providing the type of evidence you need, when you need it
- all staff, by providing tailored information alerts on a variety of topics from specialist oncology to management
- active researchers, by maintaining and developing the Christie Research Repository

Helping you deliver the Christie commitment

We deliver:

- services that ensure you have the information that keeps your skills and knowledge up to date
- training support for your CPD on how to use electronic resources effectively, access full text articles and search online databases
- advertised group sessions, tailored group sessions or individual 1 to 1 sessions on information skills
- the inter-library loan service to get those hard to find articles and books for your studies and research
